

Living to Win Over Weakness

It wasn't the Automobile Club who gave this often quoted highway report:

“The road to hell is paved with good intentions.”

What is the determiner between grand plans gone awry and those which lead to success? Most of us can think of something, sometime, that failed because of weakness. We don't like to think in those terms, but our inability to pull on our reins and point the way toward the higher call, has resulted in life being short of its highest.

A Fitness Plan for the Inner Man

- 1. Commit to give it the attention it deserves.
II Corinthians 4:16, 18
- 2. Get some other people to cheer you on.
Ephesians 3:14-18
- 3. Find some trainers to help you develop.
I Thessalonians 3:1-3
- 4. Start doing and saying the right things.
II Thessalonians 2:16-17
- 5. Don't stop the program just because it hurts.
Hebrews 12:11-12
- 6. Trust the program to produce the results.
I Peter 5:10-12

Strength and weakness are moot issues apart from struggle! If there is no conflict, there is no superior demonstration!

Every one of us who is a Christian, is a display case for God.

The Competitors

In the dark trunks . . .

In the light trunks . . .

NOTES: