

Session #1 – 10/20/05

▶ INTRODUCTION ◀

The driven climbers will be outnumbered by the satisfied “hangers-on” in every organization. There is something personally offensive about the motivated charger in the eyes of the masses. Their discipline and determination is reason enough to single them out for gossip or “sniper fire”. Their professional demise would be good news to the “ne’er-do-wells” who are shown deficient by their co-workers committed to excellence and personal progress.

If you are one of the visionaries who are unsatisfied with stopping your pursuit of the future and your goals, you’d better learn the secrets of “Survival for the Movers and Shakers”.
