

Session #4 – 11/17/05

▶ INTRODUCTION ◀

Feature articles in the business monthlies are devoted to the climbers whose door of opportunity came without a welcome mat in place. The meticulous recounting of every detail in the process becomes the basis for aspiring understudies who want to vie for “king/queen of the hill”.

Joseph would have been a candidate for the cover or “person of the year”, but his story would have shocked the pull-yourself-up society. His self-effacing style demonstrates overwhelming confidence, though it was not self-directed. See how promotion happens when the objective is godly success.
